We have found that a number of businesses do not realise the full capabilities and potential of their existing IT systems.

In order to change this we have developed a simple and informal review session to explain, in a jargon free manner, what your systems can do and help you exploit their full capabilities for your business.

This covers the following high level technologies:

-  Email and webmail
-  Email on your phone
-  File storage
-  File Security
-  Remote access (VPN)
-  Home working
-  Antivirus
-  Backups
-  Disaster Recovery
-  System Management
-  System Security
-  Networking
